

Image Resources E-Book.

By Jake Bhatt

The e-book of image resources.

I decided to put all my resources in here because I didn't want to create a page with too many links to different image resources, as I have quite a few links.

This is basically an e-book with a review of each royalty free website...

I am going to start with the website that is not royalty free but has some of the most professional and best looking images on the internet.

(CTRL + CLICK the links to visit the websites.)

1 - My First recommendation is www.istockphoto.com

With istockphoto.com you have to purchase credits which you use to purchase different sizes and licenses for images.. As istockphoto are one of the top image resources on the net so they decided to charge for their images.

They take full advantage of being the best image resource around, and they do have some of the most impressive images I have ever seen.

So if you have a strong budget and can afford to pay for these amazing images then go ahead that is completely up to you.

I personally would search through royalty free websites to save me some money... but it is your decision. It does make your website look a whole lot better.

2 – My Second recommendation is www.sxc.hu

Now I put this website as my second, but it is my top recommendation for royalty free images.

Remember though that this is my top choice because it is the website that I got the most relevant images from for MY NICHE.

The other websites you may find are better for your niche.

The restrictions for this website vary on the images you use so remember to always check the license of your image.

This royalty free image website requires you to sign up with an email address. After you sign up just open the images, right click and save as.....

These images are very large and need to be edited before you upload to your web pages... I have put further down on my image resources page a website where you can edit images.

These next resources are not from top to lowest. I believe that these are all as good as each other.

I never actually used any of these royalty free image websites below as I found the images for my niche on www.sxc.hu.

I did search through the below websites and found some good images that maybe you could use. Also they could be more relevant to your topic choice.

Next on the list is....

www.morquefile.com

Like I said I never used these websites as much as stock exchange (www.sxc.hu) but morquefile has many images for all different kinds of niches.

It is however very limited and I found searching through this image website was difficult to find images for MY NICHE.

Give this one a try and you may find something for your topic.

www.imageafter.com

Imageafter is another great royalty free image resource, however with imageafter I wouldn't bother using a keyword search with it.

Your better off just selecting one of the categories from their drop down lists, because I searched many different keywords and couldn't find anything for my website.

You may have more luck than me, but I would just select from the drop down categories.

Saves time and shows you what they have available.

www.photogen.com

I was really impressed with photogen because I discovered more images using them, I did not decide to use them, but I would have.. I just had found other images which I preferred.

So be sure to try photogen, you can keyword search through their site and find many images here.

If you have forgot REMEMBER TO CHECK THEIR LICENSE RESTRICTIONS.

I have not checked all these website image licenses. I know that they are all royalty free but they can update it whenever they wish and it is up to you to keep update with their license agreements.

www.freedigitalphotos.net

Freedigitalphotos.net is very similar to istockphoto.com they have some really great images...

They do let you use their images for free but they have one small condition which is to credit the author of that image.

Which basically means put up a link on your website which links back to their website and the authors profile page.

So you promote their website and the author.. Which isn't really fair as it cramps your website with lots of links. That is if you use more than one image.

It also doesn't do you any favors with the search engines and I believe that the SE's will not credit you for this as their website probably doesn't have much relevance to your website and the link is irrelevant.

But the images are very impressive so a fair few people decide to just credit the author, I will leave this choice completely up to you.

www.burningwell.org

Burningwell.org is very basic... It is a good image resource, but remember these websites are free and do not require you to credit their authors.

So images will not be as good as istockphoto and freedigitalphotos.net

You can find some good images on burningwell.org you just have to search deep through there lists and you will find some good ones.

Depending on your niche and what kind of images you are looking for.

www.backgroundsarchive.com

If you are looking for a background for your website template or whatever it may be then check out this site with some cool background images for your sites...

Check their license though I am sure you can use them as website templates but it may have changed.

www.pdphoto.org

Another website that has some good categories for you to choose from... Make sure you give this one a try.

For some cool and good looking images and even backgrounds

www.public-domain-photos.com

Last but not least we have public domain photos.com who are a very good image resource and provide top quality images.

It will seem like you cannot find many through this one but if you keep searching you will, I discovered a fair few good images on this website.

Never used them but they are there it depends on your wording.

And that is all the royalty free images websites I can provide. If you know of anymore royalty free image websites that you would like to share with us then please contact me through my contact us page.

I will be more than happy to add that website to this e-book and credit you for it. Thank you and I hope you enjoyed this free image resource e-book.
